

Abouna Bishoy and “Voice of Shepherd” magazine

When we first started issuing this magazine, Abouna Bishoy used to write the wonderful front page essay. He would always do his best so that it would be interesting and have a good meaning. As soon as the magazine would come off the press, he wanted to see it immediately; he would congratulate us and encourage us to publish it regularly.

When Abouna needed to travel outside of Egypt for his treatment, he made sure to prepare his essay in advance so that the magazine would be published on time including his essay. Even, in his final illness, just before his departure to heaven, he wrote his last essay for the magazine. Of course at that time, we did not realize it was the last one

In fact, it was not the last one, because Abouna Bishoy's life is the best essay for those who read the magazine. His life is a living chronicle that we have among us every hour of every day.

May the blessings of his prayers be with us all. Amen
